COLD OPEN

EXT. CAMP SITE - DAY

On the bank of the Colorado River, Amelia emerges from a tent as Billy stamps out their morning campfire.

AMELIA
Ready to hike back?

BILLY
I think so. Just need to pack up the tent and empty my bladder.

AMELIA
Gross. I'll take this down. Go deal with your personal issue somewhere far away.

EXT. BRUSH - MOMENTS LATER

Billy zips his fly as he exits the bushes. A squirrel scurries in front of him.

BILLY
Hi there, little guy. You want some trail mix?

As he swings his fanny pack around and opens it up, a large shadow appears over him. The squirrel runs away in fear.

EXT. CAMP SITE - MOMENTS LATER

Amelia rolls up the tent. Billy screams offscreen.

AMELIA
I told you to stop feeding the squirrels. Nobody likes your homemade trail mix. You put too many raisins in it.

Billy runs past, without stopping. Amelia watches.

BILLY
It's not a squirrel!

Charging in behind him, a dinosaur-sized TRILOBITE obliterates everything in its path. Amelia ditches the tent and hurriedly follows Billy.

ACT ONE

EXT. GRAND CANYON - DAY

Leading a line of pack mules along a trail, JAY, a member of the Havasupai Tribe, cleans his glasses. Scooby and the gang each ride their own mule.

Shaggy's bounces to an excessive degree, making it difficult for him to stay seated atop it.

SHAGGY

Are we, like, getting any closer,
Jay? I think my mule needs a tune-up.

The animal huffs at Shaggy angrily.

JAY

[LAUGHS] Don't worry, Shaggy, it's just beyond this bridge.

The group crosses a wooden bridge.

JAY

Welcome to Supai Village. Paradise at the bottom of the Grand Canyon.

EXT. SUPAI VILLAGE - CONTINUOUS

As the group makes their way through the small village, the gang waves at various adults and children of the HAVASUPAI tribe in the midst of their daily routines, playing basketball and passing by on horses.

FRED

Where are all the cars?

JAY

There aren't any. Bikes, horses, mules or feet are pretty much the only way to travel around here.
[THEN] Or helicopter, if there's a real emergency.

They pass by the town's helicopter pad.

EXT. LODGE - MOMENTS LATER

The gang dismounts their mules as Jay starts to unload.

JAY
Here's where you'll be staying.

DAPHNE
How beautiful.

JAY
It's nothing compared to the Falls.

DAPHNE
I read about those! Navajo, Havasu, Mooney and Beaver. I can't decide which to see first.

JAY
You should have time to see them all. [THEN] At least, as long as they aren't contaminated before then.

VELMA Contaminated?

JAY
[SIGHS] Each year a new company tries to move in and mine around here. We're constantly working to preserve the natural beauty of the area.

DAPHNE
That's awful.

JAY
It is. But we keep on fighting.

Jay unloads a heavy piece of cargo.

FRED
You need a hand, Jay?

JAY
Sure. Thanks.

Fred unties some cargo. Shaggy and Scooby head to Shaggy's fully loaded mule.

SHAGGY
What's in all these, anyway?

JAY Food, mostly.

Food? SHAGGY Food? SCOOPY

JAY
Yep. These mule trains are how most supplies get to the village.

SHAGGY
Like, I wish I knew that an hour ago. I could've saved my lunch.
[STOMACH GROWLS] But I guess I've got room for seconds. [LAUGHS]

The mule refuses to let Shaggy take anything off of it, repeatedly moving away from his grasp. DR. JOHN DOLITTLE, the famous British literary character, joins them.

DR. DOLITTLE
Having some trouble?

SHAGGY
She doesn't really seem to like me.

DR. DOLITTLE
Is that so? [MULE SOUNDS]

The mule converses with Dr. Dolittle. Shaggy and Scooby look at one another, confused.

DR. DOLITTLE
Were you eating the whole way into the canyon?

SHAGGY
Yeah, like, how'd you --

DR. DOLITTLE
Bessie says you kept dropping crumbs in her hair.

The mule huffs at Shaggy.

SHAGGY
Oh. [THEN] You can talk to her?

DR. DOLITTLE
I can indeed. Equus africanus asinus, Equus ferus caballus and every other creature in the animal kingdom. The name's Dr. John Dolittle. It's a pleasure to meet you.

He shakes Shaggy's hand.

DR. DOLITTLE
[DOG SOUNDS]

He reaches a hand towards Scooby.

SCOOBY
Huh?

DR. DOLITTLE
Oh -- uh -- [NEW DOG SOUNDS]

SCOOBY
I don't understand.

SHAGGY
I don't think you're speaking
Scooby's language, doc.

DR. DOLITTLE
Can you talk to animals too?

SHAGGY
I can talk to him.

DR. DOLITTLE
Astounding. What is he? Canis familiaris? Lycaon pictus?

Shaggy turns to Scooby. Scooby shrugs.

JAY
We don't need your help, doctor.

DR. DOLITTLE
Sorry, I was only --

JAY
I know what you're doing around here and I don't like it. The council never should've allowed you to come.

DR. DOLITTLE
Like I told them, we're not doing anything to harm this land. It's research. Nothing leaves the canyon.

VELMA
Research?

DR. DOLITTLE

Yes. I'm participating in an archaeological dig nearby. You kids are more than welcome to stop by.

VELMA

That sounds amazing!

DR. DOLITTLE

Terrific. I was actually about to head over now, if you'd care to join.

Velma looks at Jay with pleading eyes.

VELMA

Would that be all right, Jay?

JAY

I guess so. I've got to distribute these deliveries around anyway.

EXT. DIG SITE - LATER

A few sections of rock and areas on the ground have been taped off near the wall of the canyon. The gang arrives with Dr. Dolittle as DR. OPHELIA CONNOR, a short-haired Tomb Raider type, emerges from a small tent.

OPHELIA

John, you're back. And you brought company.

DR. DOLITTLE

These kids just arrived in Supai. I thought I'd give them a peek at what we've found thus far.

OPHELIA

Sure. Bring them in.

While the gang heads into the tent, Scooby sniffs around outside. He bumps into the back of a California CONDOR with a scar across one eye.

SCOOBY

Sorry.

The condor turns around, furious. Opening its wings, it caws at Scooby, chasing and pecking at him.

INT. TENT - SAME

Several tables are covered with small fossils, archaeological gear and notebooks galore.

OPHELIA

I'm Dr. Ophelia Connor. I'm heading up this dig.

DR. DOLITTLE

Dr. Connor's one of the world's leading geoarchaeologists.

Shaggy picks up a small dragonfly fossil.

SHAGGY

Like, where are all the dinosaur bones?

OPHELIA

There actually aren't any dinosaur remains in the Grand Canyon. In fact, while the walls in some places are almost a billion years older than most dinosaurs, many scientists believe the canyon itself didn't form until long after the dinosaurs were already gone.

VELMA

Interesting. So what types of fossils are there?

OPHELIA

Mostly marine life. Stromatolites, crinoids, corals, some ancient arthropods.

DR. DOLITTLE

A lot of them are sitting right on the canyon walls.

Daphne points out a yellow dust on Ophelia's outfit.

DAPHNE

Is that what all that yellow dust is from?

OPHELIA

Yeah, you know us archaeologists, always covered in dirt. [LAUGHS]

She hurriedly brushes herself off as they exit the tent.

EXT. DIG SITE - CONTINUOUS

Scooby's chased by the condor in the background.

OPHELIA

Say, why don't you take the raft and show them the river. I've got a bunch of data to record, so you won't be missing anything.

DR. DOLITTLE

What a stupendous idea.

Shaggy looks around and spots Scooby running from the condor.

SHAGGY

Let's go, Scoob! Quit playing around.

Scooby directs the condor's attention offscreen.

SCOOBY

What's that?

The condor turns to look, but when it glances back, Scooby's gone. He climbs aboard the raft with the rest of the gang.

EXT. GRAND CANYON - MOMENTS LATER

Dr. Dolittle and the gang pull the raft onto the riverbank.

DAPHNE

You really think we'll see some wildlife?

DR. DOLITTLE

Certainly. And this looks to be a marvelous spot.

SHAGGY

It seems empty.

DR. DOLITTLE

Just wait. [MOUNTAIN LION SOUNDS]

The gang looks around, but no animals appear.

FRED

Was something supposed to happen, or --

DR. DOLITTLE

Let me try another. [COYOTE SOUNDS]

Still nothing.

DR. DOLITTLE
How strange.

DAPHNE
There's something!

Daphne points out a JAVELINA, a hoofed, pig-like animal, eating from a bush nearby.

DR. DOLITTLE
Wonderful! Perhaps that Pecari tajacu can tell us what's going on.

Dr. Dolittle approaches the animal.

DR. DOLITTLE
[JAVELINA SOUNDS]

The gang watches, a bit weirded out.

DR. DOLITTLE
Sounds like a creature's been scaring the animals.

SHAGGY
Is it, like, a giant bug?

DR. DOLITTLE
[JAVELINA SOUNDS] [SHOCKED] He said it is, but how in the world did you know that?

SHAGGY
Because it's right there!

Shaggy points as the giant trilobite charges towards the group.

END OF ACT ONE

ACT TWO

EXT. GRAND CANYON - DAY

The javelina flees as Dr. Dolittle and the gang race back to their raft. The humongous trilobite closes in.

DAPHNE

Jeepers, it's a colossal cockroach!

VELMA

Actually, Daphne, I think it's a trilobite.

DR. DOLITTLE

Spot on, Velma. That appears to be a Kainops ekphymus. Distinguishable from the Paciphacops by the additional facets on the eye. You'll notice it appears to have roughly eight per row, as opposed to the three to four found in --

SHAGGY

This, like, isn't really a great time for a science lesson, doc!

FRED

Hang on!

Fred gives the raft a final push and hops in as the current takes them down river. The trilobite follows them on land.

EXT. COLORADO RIVER - CONTINUOUS

Dr. Dolittle and the gang paddle at a breakneck pace. Without oars of their own, Shaggy and Scooby use their hands.

VELMA

This won't work. We can't lose it on the river.

Dr. Dolittle talks to a fish leaping alongside them.

DR. DOLITTLE

[FISH SOUNDS] Sounds as though we've got another problem ahead.

REVEAL: They're fast approaching dangerous rapids.

SHAGGY

Zoinks! What do we do?

Thinking as quickly as possible, Dr. Dolittle looks around.

DR. DOLITTLE

Get ready to jump. [EAGLE SOUNDS]

A convocation of eagles, soaring overhead, suddenly dive downwards. Dr. Dolittle, and each member of the gang, jump and are caught by an eagle moments before the raft hits the rapids.

Scooby glances up to discover he's being carried by the scarred condor. It pecks at his head as they fly.

Dr. Dolittle and the gang are safely delivered to shore. Scooby's dropped into a tree, hitting all the branches as he falls to the ground.

The trilobite charges out from the brush, only to be revealed to be on the opposite side of the river as the gang. It cautiously approaches the water, only to backtrack and leave.

VELMA

That's weird. Weren't trilobites marine animals?

DR. DOLITTLE

Astute observation, Velma. I wonder what kept that one on land.

EXT. SUPAI VILLAGE - LATER

Dr. Dolittle and the gang travel back into the village on foot. Jay exits the town store as they pass by.

JAY

Back already?

FRED

We ran into a little trouble.

SHAGGY

More like big trouble.

SCOOBY

Dinosaur sized!

JAY

Oh... The trilobite?

VELMA

You know about it?

JAY

A lot of tourists have ended their trips early because of that thing. It's not connected to any legends I know of, but it seems to be a great protector of our lands. Makes sense it'd want to keep him out of here.

They look over as Dr. Dolittle converses with a squirrel.

DR. DOLITTLE

[SQUIRREL SOUNDS]

VELMA

What are you doing?

DR. DOLITTLE

I thought I may be able to procure some information about our no-longer-extinct friend. [THEN] Squirrels are nature's gossip.

DAPHNE

Does he know anything?

DR. DOLITTLE

He said his chum saw it down by something called Cactus Creek.

JAY

[LAUGHS] It must know you're up to no good.

DR. DOLITTLE

Why's that?

JAY

Cactus Creek's not far from your dig site.

DR. DOLITTLE/GANG

[GASPS] Doctor Connor!

Dr. Dolittle and the gang run off.

JAY

I warned you! He's a guardian of the land!

EXT. DIG SITE - MOMENTS LATER

The area's destroyed. Dr. Dolittle runs to the crushed tent.

DR. DOLITTLE
Doctor Connor? Ophelia?

VELMA
It looks like the trilobite beat us here.

DR. DOLITTLE
I can't find her anywhere.

SHAGGY
Maybe she's playing hide and seek.
[NERVOUS LAUGH] Dr. Connor? Come out, come out, wherever you are!

DAPHNE
Look! Tracks! And they're dino-sized!

Dr. Dolittle and the gang rush over. A trail of massive tracks lead into the distance.

DR. DOLITTLE
It must have chased her off.

VELMA
Hmm... That ancient arthropod has to be what left these, but something doesn't seem right.

FRED
Let's follow them. Maybe they'll lead us to Dr. Connor.

Dr. Dolittle and the gang head off. Scooby has second thoughts, but the condor lands nearby. It gives Scooby an evil grin. Scooby hurriedly joins the others.

EXT. CAVE - MOMENTS LATER

The giant-sized trilobite lays at the mouth of a cave. Everybody whispers.

VELMA
Jinkies. It's even bigger up close.

FRED
Is it sleeping?

SHAGGY
Seems like it. So let's leave him a glass of milk and get out of here.
[NERVOUS LAUGH]

FRED
Hold on. I think it's guarding that cave. We better get a closer look.

DR. DOLITTLE
Perhaps Dr. Connor's already inside.

Scooby hears the condor's caw and turns to see it swooping towards him. He runs into the cave for cover.

FRED
That's the spirit, Scooby!

INT. CAVE - MOMENTS LATER

With flashlights guiding their way, Dr. Dolittle and the gang trek through the damp, dark cave.

DAPHNE
You'd think after all these years these caves would at least have a little electricity.

VELMA
Actually, of the thousand or so caves researchers think exist in the Grand Canyon, only about thirty percent have been explored and recorded.

SHAGGY
[GULPS] You mean we might end up like socks in a dryer?

VELMA
How?

SHAGGY
Lost and never found.

VELMA
That's highly unlikely. There's only one tunnel, so it's not like there's any way for us to go in...different...directions...

They stop at a fork in the tunnel.

SHAGGY
You were saying?

FRED

Shaggy, why don't you take Scooby and Dr. Dolittle down that path, while the girls and I head down this one.

SHAGGY

Because I don't want to. It looks scary. Let's all get pizza instead.

Velma pulls out a box of Scooby Snacks.

VELMA

Would you do it for a Scooby Snack?

SHAGGY

[PSHAWS] One Scooby Snack?

He walks away.

VELMA

Two.

Shaggy speeds back, suddenly interested.

SHAGGY

Three.

VELMA

Fine.

She tosses Shaggy three Scooby Snacks. Dr. Dolittle is stunned to see Shaggy eat them.

SCOOBY

What about me?

VELMA

Sorry, Scooby. You waited too long. Negotiations are over.

Scooby lowers his head and sulks.

INT. CAVE PATH B - LATER

Dr. Dolittle, Shaggy and Scooby continue walking in the cave.

DR. DOLITTLE

Were those... dog treats?

SHAGGY

You'll have to be more specific.

DR. DOLITTLE
The Scooby Snacks you ate earlier.
Are those for dogs?

SHAGGY
I mean, like, can any food really be for dogs.

SCOOBY
Yes.

DR. DOLITTLE
Yes.

SHAGGY
Food is food, man.

DR. DOLITTLE
Fascinating. I wonder if there's a correlation between those and your ability to communicate with your dog. [DOG SOUNDS]

SCOOBY
What are you saying?

Scooby suddenly jumps in fear at the sight of multiples of his reflection in crystals on the cave floor.

SHAGGY
What is it, Scoob?

SCOOBY
Lots of me...

Shaggy shines his light onto the dead end of dark crystals ahead of them.

SHAGGY
Whoa, those are some, like, far out crystals.

DR. DOLITTLE
They certainly don't resemble any I've seen before.

SHAGGY
We'll have to show Velma.

Dr. Dolittle examines the wall of crystals.

DR. DOLITTLE
Seems to be a dead end.

SHAGGY
Can we not use the word 'dead' while we're in a creepy cavern?

The cave starts to rumble.

SHAGGY
[GULPS] Please tell me that was your stomach, Scoob... Or mine.

Scooby feels his stomach, then feels Shaggy.

SCOOBY
No. [THEN] No.

They look at Dr. Dolittle.

DR. DOLITTLE
Wasn't me.

They shine their flashlights down the path behind them, revealing the giant trilobite.

SHAGGY Zoinks!

The trilobite angrily bangs itself against the walls. Rocks crash down between the trio and the beast.

END OF ACT TWO

ACT THREE

INT. CAVE'S DEAD END - DAY

Dr. Dolittle, Shaggy and Scooby are trapped, a wall of boulders blocking their path back.

SHAGGY

There's no way out! That tricky trilobite trapped us for good! I'll never eat another Super Shaggy Sandwich again!

Dr. Dolittle looks around.

DR. DOLITTLE

Don't worry. I've got some friends in high places. [BAT SOUNDS]

A bat hanging overhead wakes up and flies down to Dr. Dolittle's shoulder. They talk.

DR. DOLITTLE

[BAT SOUNDS] She says there's another way out.

SHAGGY

There is? Where?

The bat flies to an opening high on the cave wall.

DR. DOLITTLE

It appears, up there.

CUT TO:

LATER

Dr. Dolittle toddles under the weight of Shaggy on his shoulders, who has Scooby on his.

DR. DOLITTLE

Have you reached it?

SCOOBY

Almost...

Scooby teeters the trio back and forth as he tries to grab the ledge. The bat watches.

Swinging far from the ledge, Scooby frantically reaches out, trying to grab anything to keep him from falling.

The bat lets out a small breath of air, giving Scooby a final push that topples the entire trio over.

In a jumbled mess on the ground, Shaggy and Dr. Dolittle look at Scooby. He lets out a sheepish laugh.

CUT TO:

LATER

Dr. Dolittle drops a rock onto a pile. It appears to be a ramp, pointing towards the opening.

DR. DOLITTLE
That should do it.

The trio looks at the pile.

SHAGGY
Who's first?

DR. DOLITTLE
Who's fastest?

They look at Scooby.

SCOOBY
Oh no. Not me.

SHAGGY
Sorry, pal. Good luck.

He pats Scooby's back as he steps aside with Dr. Dolittle. Scooby sighs and gets into a track runner's starting position.

Scooby lets out a deep breath, then runs as fast as he can. As he reaches the end of the ramp, he leaps. The bat watches from the opening.

Scooby looks headed towards the opening, but suddenly drops to the floor with a thud. The bat laughs and flies to Dr. Dolittle's shoulder. It whispers in his ear.

DR. DOLITTLE
[BAT SOUNDS]

SHAGGY
Like, what now?

DR. DOLITTLE
She says there's a third passage.

SHAGGY

Where? The ceiling?

The bat flies to a large boulder. Dr. Dolittle pushes it aside, revealing another passageway on the cave wall.

DR. DOLITTLE

Couldn't have shown us this sooner?

The bat laughs hysterically as they walk in the tunnel.

INT. CAVE PATH A - MOMENTS LATER

Daphne, Velma and Fred are startled by a noise. A few indistinguishable shadows move towards them.

FRED

Someone's coming. Hide!

They duck behind a rock.

FRED

When they walk past, grab them.

DAPHNE

Right.

VELMA

Right.

As three figures walk by, they leap out and grab them.

FRED

Got you!

SHAGGY

Oh no you don't!

Shaggy flips Fred over, onto the ground.

VELMA

Shaggy?

SHAGGY

Velma?

Shaggy shines his light on Fred, then helps him up.

SHAGGY

Why didn't you say you were you?

FRED

Because I didn't know you were you.

DAPHNE

How'd you get ahead of us?

DR. DOLITTLE
We hit a dead end and found a tunnel connecting to this side of the cave.

SHAGGY
We also found that terrible trilobite again.

FRED
It's awake?

SHAGGY
Awake and cranky.

FRED
Then we better head back. Come on!

They hurry back the way they came.

EXT. CAVE - MOMENTS LATER

They step into the light. Shaggy joyfully lays on the ground.

SHAGGY
Daylight! I'm so happy to see you!
I'll never leave you again!

The condor sneak attacks Scooby from behind and chases him in the background.

VELMA
Looks like the trilobite hasn't come out yet.

FRED
That or it's gone after another group of tourists.

DR. DOLITTLE
We better get back to the village.
Dr. Connor's still missing and we need to get a search party together before dark.

Scooby tosses a rock at the condor, but it catches it and throws it back into his face. Scooby's knocked unconscious.

EXT. SUPAI VILLAGE - LATER

As Dr. Dolittle and the gang return to town, Jay leaves the village cafe.

JAY

Hey, gang! That was my last delivery. You ready to see the Falls?

DAPHNE

Not yet. We haven't found Dr. Connor.

JAY

That's what I warned you about. Taking things from this canyon goes against all we stand for. You brought this on yourselves.

DR. DOLITTLE

And I've told you countless times, we aren't taking anything. We're conducting archaeological research. That's it. Everything stays here.

Shaggy taps Jay's shoulder.

SHAGGY

When you say we're not supposed to take things from the canyon? Is that like anything?

JAY

Yes, Shaggy. Nature can't survive if every visitor takes a piece for themselves.

SHAGGY

Oh. I should probably, like, put these back then.

Shaggy pulls the crystals from his pocket.

VELMA

Jinkies! Where'd you get those?

SHAGGY

In the cave. There was a whole wall of these crystals, so I didn't think taking a couple would make a difference.

VELMA

Every little bit matters, Shaggy, especially since these aren't ordinary crystals.

SHAGGY
They're not?

VELMA
No. These are the answer to this mystery.

SCOOBY
They are?

FRED Great. The one time I have the opportunity to trap something this size and you guys made me pack light. [THINKING] Although maybe I could tie my travel nets together.
That might -- I'll be right back!

Fred runs off.

JAY
You're building a trap a here?

VELMA
An environmentally friendly one, of course. It's the only way we'll stop that trilobite from causing more damage.

JAY
How will you do it? We don't have the supplies to spare.

Dr. Dolittle spots a couple bighorn sheep nearby

DR. DOLITTLE
I may know some folks who might be willing to help...

EXT. GRAND CANYON - VARIOUS - LATER

MONTAGE of Dr. Dolittle recruiting a wide variety of animals.

He first speaks to a scarcity of condors perched on a tree.
The scarred one notices Scooby and flies after him. It chases Scooby through the background of the rest of the montage.

Other animals Dr. Dolittle recruits include rattlesnakes, mountain lions and skunks.

EXT. CAVE - LATER

Shaggy and Scooby are dressed like prospectors.

SHAGGY

Well, howdy there, pardner, lookee what I rustled up.

Shaggy pulls the crystals from his pocket.

SCOOBY

What in tarnation?

SHAGGY

Yessiree, there's a whole mess of these I'm plannin' to claim in this here cave! A real gold mine - er - crystal mine, ripe fer the takin'!

The trilobite bursts out of the cave.

SHAGGY

Guess it's already been claimed.

SCOOBY

He can have it!

They ditch their costumes and run.

EXT. COLORADO RIVER - MOMENTS LATER

Shaggy and Scooby swim to the other side and blow raspberries at the trilobite when it hesitates to cross the water. As the pair laugh, it pushes a load of brush and dirt onto the water, creating itself a dry way across.

Scooby stops laughing when he sees the beast and points it out to Shaggy. They run again.

Dr. Dolittle watches nearby as the two hurry into some bushes. He roars and a pack of mountain lions emerge in a line, stopping the trilobite's path.

As it backtracks, Dr. Dolittle lets out another sound and a row of skunks emerge in a line. They fill the air with their fumes and the trilobite backs away.

Looking to make itself a path back across the water once more, the trilobite is stopped when Dr. Dolittle hisses and a row of rattlesnakes slither along the bank of the river. They rattle at the trilobite menacingly.

One of the snakes points up and the trilobite looks to the sky as the scarcity of condors flies overhead, carrying a massive net. Jay flies the helicopter not far behind, with Fred as his co-pilot.

FRED

Now!

The condors release the net. Fred's way too excited about it.

FRED

Yeehaw!

As the net lands over the trilobite, Dr. Dolittle lets out another call and a line of bighorn sheep standing along the ridge above kick boulders down. They land around the trilobite, holding the net down.

LATER

Jay, Dr. Dolittle and the gang gather around the trilobite. A cockpit on the trilobite's head opens to reveal Ophelia at the controls.

EVERYBODY

Dr. Ophelia Connor?

VELMA

Precisely. While Dr. Connor had started on a hunt for fossils, after stumbling across that cave, she found --

SHAGGY

Crystals!

VELMA

But not just any crystals. Uranium crystals. And the yellow dust Daphne saw on her earlier: Yellowcake.

SCOOBY

Cake?

SHAGGY

Who's got cake?

VELMA

No, Shaggy. Yellowcake's a powder from the uranium mining process.

VELMA (CONT'D)

She planned to illegally mine the natural uranium in the canyon, with her drilling machine disguised as a trilobite.

JAY

I knew they were up to no good.

VELMA

They weren't. As you'll likely find in her notebooks, Dr. Connor kept this discovery all to herself.

OPHELIA

And I would've gotten away with it too if it weren't for you meddling kids and all these darn animals!

A rattlesnake hisses and startles her.

Dr. Dolittle notices the condor pecking at a cowering Scooby, who has clearly given up trying to escape the bird. He calls to it and the bird flies to his arm. They converse.

DR. DOLITTLE

He said you bumped him as he was about to catch his lunch.

Scooby pulls a sandwich from his collar as a peace offering.

SCOOBY

Sandwich?

The condor snatches it and leaves. Scooby hugs Dr. Dolittle.

SCOOBY

Thank you, thank you, thank you!

DR. DOLITTLE

I'm sorry. I thought I could talk to all animals, but I'm afraid I just can't seem to understand you.

SCOOBY

[LAUGHS] Scooby-Dooby-Doo!

DR. DOLITTLE

Hold on! I think I got that. Something about a shoe?

Scooby facepalms.

END OF SHOW
